

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
EASTERN DISTRICT OF VIRGINIA
RICHMOND DIVISION

GLORIA PERSONHUBALLAH, et al,

Plaintiffs,

v.

JAMES B. ALCORN, et al.,

Defendants.

Civil Action No. 3:13-cv-678-REP-LO-AKD

PLAINTIFFS' MEMORANDUM IN SUPPORT OF FOURTH SUPPLEMENTAL MOTION FOR ATTORNEYS' FEES

The Court's order striking down Virginia's 2012 congressional redistricting plan has now been definitively affirmed by the United States Supreme Court, which rejected unanimously Intervenor-Defendants' second appeal in this long-pending matter. Accordingly, Plaintiffs are, and remain, the prevailing parties in this litigation. As such, Plaintiffs respectfully move this Court to:

(1) reinstate the fee award previously granted in this case on March 11, 2015. Dkt. Entry No. 139;

(2) grant a supplemental award of attorneys' fees pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1988, 52 U.S.C. § 10310(e) (formerly codified as 42 U.S.C. § 1973l(e)), and Fed. R. Civ. P. 54 against Intervenor-Defendants as well as Defendants for work performed before this Court related to the remand of this matter, as set out in Plaintiffs' reply in support of their third supplemental fee petition (the "Third Fee Motion"), Dkt. Entry No. 176; and

(3) grant a supplemental award of attorneys' fees against Intervenor-Defendants as well as Defendants for work performed during (a) the remedial phase of this litigation before the Court and (b) Intervenor-Defendants' second appeal to the United States Supreme Court.<sup>1</sup>

Plaintiffs previously set forth much of the relevant background and argument in their Memorandum in Support of Motion for Attorneys' Fees, Expert Fees, and Costs (filed after the Court's first opinion in Plaintiffs' favor), Dkt. Entry No. 112, and in their Memorandum in Support of their Third Fee Motion, (filed after the Court's second opinion in Plaintiffs' favor), Dkt. Entry No. 176. This memorandum summarizes the events that transpired during the remedial phase of the litigation and Intervenor-Defendants' second appeal and requests further relief for Plaintiffs' work on these phases of the case. Because the Court adopted a remedial plan that redresses the unconstitutional racial gerrymander of Congressional District ("CD") 3 and the Supreme Court affirmed the Court's ruling on the merits, Plaintiffs submit that they are the prevailing parties and respectfully request that the Court grant their reasonable attorneys' fees related to litigating this case since July 2015.

Plaintiffs' counsel dedicated a reasonable amount of time and resources to prevailing in this matter during the remedial phase of the lawsuit and on appeal. Counsel litigated efficiently in light of the case's complexity. They seek fees at rates consistent with the prevailing market rates for similar services by attorneys of comparable skill, experience, expertise, and reputation. And they exercised reasonable billing judgment as recorded in their detailed, accurate, and contemporaneous billing records submitted with this application.

Specifically, Plaintiffs seek (1) reinstatement of the Court's prior award of fees in the amount of $691,337.40, expert fees in the amount of $49,448.79, and costs in the amount of $38,403.20; (2) fees for their work on remand from Intervenor-Defendants' first appeal in the amount of $73,540.50; and (3) fees incurred during the remedial phase and on Intervenor-

<sup>1</sup> In the Reply in Support of this Motion, Plaintiffs will provide a supplemental declaration and accounting for fees incurred from June 10, 2016 onward, which will consist of entries related to Plaintiffs' "fees on fees."

Defendants' second appeal in the amount of $618,201.00 and litigation expenses in the amount of $19,316.75.

I. RELEVANT PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

As the Court is aware, Plaintiffs sought declaratory and injunctive relief under § 1983 for the Defendants' violation of the U.S. Constitution. After a bench trial, on October 7, 2014, the Court found in Plaintiffs' favor on the merits. Dkt. Entry Nos. 109, 110. Accordingly, the Court ordered that the "Commonwealth of Virginia is hereby enjoined from conducting any elections subsequent to 2014 for the office of United States Representative until a new redistricting plan is adopted" and that the Virginia General Assembly must act to "remedy the constitutional violations found in this case." Dkt. Entry No. 110. The Intervenor-Defendants appealed to the Supreme Court on October 31, 2014. Dkt. Entry No. 123. Only Intervenor-Defendants chose to do so. Defendants did not appeal.

Following this Court's judgment, on October 20, 2014, Plaintiffs timely moved for attorneys' fees and reasonable litigation expenses. Dkt. Entry No. 112. On March 11, 2015, while the appeal was pending, the Court granted Plaintiffs attorneys' fees in the amount of $691,337.40, expert fees in the amount of $49,448.79, and other costs in the amount of $38,403.20. Dkt. Entry No. 139 at 28.

On March 30, 2015, the Supreme Court vacated the judgment and remanded the case to this Court for further consideration in light of Alabama Legislative Black Caucus v. Alabama, 135 S. Ct. 1257 (2015) ("Alabama"). Dkt. Entry No. 150. The Supreme Court's order was silent as to the award of attorneys' fees. Pursuant to this Court's order, Dkt. Entry No. 144, the parties, including Intervenor-Defendants, briefed the issue of what effect, if any, Alabama had on the case. Dkt. Entry Nos. 145, 148, 151, 153, 154.

The Court again awarded Plaintiffs the relief they sought in its Memorandum Opinion and Order of June 5, 2015, Dkt. Entry Nos. 170, 171, ordering that the "Commonwealth of Virginia is hereby enjoined from conducting any elections for the office of United States Representative until a new redistricting plan is adopted” and that “the matter of providing a redistricting plan to remedy the constitutional violations found in this case is referred to the Virginia General Assembly[.]” Dkt. Entry No. 171.

On June 19, 2015, Plaintiffs filed their Third Fee Motion, seeking fees related to their work on remand from the first appeal leading up to the Court’s reaffirmation of its original Opinion. Dkt. Entry No. 175. Plaintiffs ultimately requested a supplemental fee award of $73,540.50. See Dkt. Entry No. 184 at 3; see also Dkt. Entry No. 186-1 (table reflecting total fee request broken down by timekeeper).

Meanwhile, on June 18, 2015, Intervenor-Defendants filed a notice of appeal. Dkt. Entry No. 172. On July 29, 2015, the Court, accordingly, deferred consideration of Plaintiffs’ Third Fee Motion pending resolution of Intervenor-Defendants’ appeal. Dkt. Entry No. 198.

Thereafter, this case proceeded on two tracks. The Court conducted remedial proceedings and adopted a remedial congressional districting plan to implement its Opinion striking down CD 3. This required substantial and complex work over a period of many months. See, e.g., generally Dkt. Entry Nos. 204-299. During the remedial phase, after the Court adopted the governing procedures and selected a Special Master, Plaintiffs developed and submitted a remedial plan. See Dkt. Entry No. 229. Plaintiffs also analyzed and prepared objections to the nine remedial plans submitted by Intervenor-Defendants and non-parties. See generally Dkt. Entry No. 250. Plaintiffs then submitted multiple rounds of briefing on the Special Master’s two alternative redistricting proposals, see Dkt Entry Nos. 277, 286, 298. Plaintiffs concurred that either of the Special Master’s proposals constituted an appropriate remedy, expressing their view that “Congressional Plan 16 is the superior plan.” Dkt. Entry No. 277 at 5. Intervenor-Defendants, by contrast, objected to both plans vociferously, Dkt. Entry Nos. 279, 289, which led the Special Master to release two supplements to his report to respond to Intervenor-Defendants' mischaracterizations of his methodological approach, see Dkt. Entry Nos. 294, 298.

In addition to the work above, Plaintiffs prepared for and attended a December 14, 2015, hearing before the Court on the Special Master's proposals and Intervenor-Defendants' motion to stay implementation of a remedy pending resolution of their appeal. The Court adopted Congressional Plan 16. See Dkt. Entry No. 299 at 3. After both the Court and Supreme Court rejected Intervenor-Defendants' requests to stay the remedial proceedings pending the resolution of their appeal, Plaintiffs also briefed and argued successfully Intervenor-Defendants' appeal to the Supreme Court. On appeal, Plaintiffs argued that Intervenor-Defendants lacked standing (and that their claims failed on the merits). Defendants conceded Plaintiffs' victory on the merits given the standard of review, but argued that Intervenor-Defendants had standing.

On May 23, 2016, the Supreme Court unanimously affirmed the Court's June 5, 2016 order, agreeing with Plaintiffs that Intervenor-Defendants did not have standing to pursue the appeal. See Dkt. Entry No. 315-1. On June 24, 2016, the Supreme Court issued a mandate entering judgment in this matter. See Dkt. Entry No. 315.

II. ARGUMENT

A. The Original Fee Award Should Be Reinstated

As set forth above, Plaintiffs prevailed following a bench trial, Dkt. Entry Nos. 109, 110, and the Court accordingly awarded attorneys' fees, expert fees, and costs, Dkt. Entry No. 139 at 28. Neither Defendants nor Intervenor-Defendants have appealed or otherwise objected to this award of fees and costs. Although it seems apparent that this award remains undisturbed by the subsequent orders of this Court and the Supreme Court, Plaintiffs respectfully submit that the Court should formally reaffirm and/or reenter that award to remove any doubt or question on the issue.

B. Plaintiffs Are Prevailing Parties and Entitled to a Supplemental Award of Attorneys' Fees for Work Following the Court's Initial Award of Fees and Litigation Expenses

Plaintiffs brought this action under 42 U.S.C. § 1983, and prevailing parties in such actions “should ordinarily recover an attorney’s fee unless special circumstances would render such an award unjust.” Hensley v. Eckerhart, 461 U.S. 424, 429 (1983) (citation omitted). Civil rights plaintiffs are prevailing parties “if they succeed on any significant issue in litigation which achieves some of the benefit the parties sought in bringing the suit.” Texas State Teachers Ass’n v. Garland Indep. Sch. Dist., 489 U.S. 782, 789 (1989); see Bly v. McLeod, 605 F.2d 134, 137 (4th Cir. 1979) (“It is settled that in order to be a prevailing party one need not win on every issue in the case.”). A plaintiff need only “point to a resolution of the dispute which changes the legal relationship between itself and the defendant.” Id. at 792. “And [the Supreme Court] ha[s] repeatedly held that an injunction or declaratory judgment, like a damages award, will usually satisfy that test.” Lefemine v. Wideman, 133 S. Ct. 9, 11 (2012). Successful plaintiffs are entitled to fees incurred during proceedings on appeal and remand. See Maddrix v. Dize, 153 F.2d 274, 276 (4th Cir. 1946) (“[T]he ordinary and effective procedure in the allowance of attorney’s fees in litigation which proceeds through several courts is to place the responsibility on the trial court where the work begins and ends and the value of the entire service can be best estimated after it has been completed.”); see also Cabrales v. Cnty. of Los Angeles, 935 F.2d 1050, 1053 (9th Cir. 1991) (directing that “the district court will also determine the County’s liability for reasonable attorney’s fees before us, as well as for any fees reasonably incurred during the proceedings on remand”); Familias Unidas v. Briscoe, 619 F.2d 391, 406 (5th Cir. 1980) (“[P]laintiffs are entitled to receive their reasonable attorney’s fees and costs incurred originally in the bringing of this action and throughout the course of the ensuing appeals and remands.”).

As was the case following the bench trial, Plaintiffs are plainly the prevailing parties on remand from both of Intervenor-Defendants’ appeals. They requested a declaratory judgment that the 2012 Third Congressional District contravenes the Equal Protection Clause, and the Court unequivocally held in its June 5, 2015, Memorandum Opinion that the plan “violates the Equal Protection Clause.” Dkt. Entry No. 170 at 49. Plaintiffs also sought to permanently enjoin Defendants from enforcing the boundaries as drawn in the 2012 plan, and the Court permanently enjoined Virginia from “conducting any elections for the office of United States Representative until a new redistricting plan is adopted.” Dkt. Entry No. 171. Before this litigation, Virginia indisputably intended to conduct elections after the 2014 general election under the 2012 plan. After the ruling, Virginia may not use the plan for any election, and must instead conduct elections under the remedial plan adopted by the Court, as it is in the midst of doing this year. The Supreme Court has affirmed. Plaintiffs prevailed and entitled to attorneys’ fees and reasonable litigation expenses.

C. The Court Should Award Plaintiffs $73,540.50 in Fees for Work on the First Remand

As set out above, after the Court reaffirmed its original memorandum opinion., Dkt. Entry No. 175, Plaintiffs filed their Third Fee Motion, seeking fees related to their work on remand from the first appeal. Intervenor-Defendants, in their response, argued that the Court should delay its resolution of the motion until after their pending second appeal, and that the Court should award fees against Defendants but not Intervenor-Defendants. Intervenor Defendants also lodged terse and boilerplate objections that Plaintiffs requested “excessive” fees. See generally Dkt. Entry No. 184. Defendants, for their part, argued in main that the Court should award fees against Intervenor-Defendants. See generally Dkt. Entry No. 183 at 3-8. Defendants also asked the Court to award Plaintiffs’ fees at “Richmond” rates rather than the actual rates charged, id. at 9-11, and further argued that Plaintiffs should not recover for work related to Plaintiffs’ opposition to intervention by Intervenor Brat and Comstock.<sup>2</sup>

<sup>2</sup> As to the latter point, Plaintiffs objected to intervention on the grounds that neither Representative Brat nor Representative Comstock had standing, see generally Dkt. Entry No. 152, a position vindicated by the Supreme Court in its dismissal of Intervenor-Defendants’ second appeal, see Dkt. Entry No. 315-1.

Plaintiffs ultimately requested a supplemental fee award of $73,540.50, agreeing to seek recovery at the “Richmond” rates identified by Defendants. See Dkt. Entry No. 184 at 3; see also Dkt. Entry No. 186-1 (table reflecting total fee request broken down by timekeeper). Plaintiffs’ request for these fees has been fully briefed and there is no need for the parties to burden the Court by comprehensively rebriefing the matter. Rather, for the reasons Plaintiffs have stated in their prior briefing, Dkt. Entry Nos. 176, 184, the Court should Plaintiffs fees in the amount of $73,540.50 for their work during the first remand leading up to the Court’s re-affirmation of its original memorandum opinion striking down CD 3.

D. The Court Should Award Plaintiffs Fees and Reasonable Litigation Expenses for Their Work During the Remedial Phase and on Intervenor-Defendants’ Second Appeal

1. Plaintiffs’ Attorneys’ Fees Are Reasonable.

Federal courts employ the familiar lodestar method to calculate the reasonableness of attorneys’ fees under the civil-rights fee-shifting statutes. Hensley, 461 U.S. at 433; McAfee v. Boczar, 738 F.3d 81, 88 (4th Cir. 2013). Lodestar entails “the number of hours reasonably expended on the litigation multiplied by a reasonable hourly rate.” Hensley, 461 U.S. at 433; see also Blum v. Stenson, 465 U.S. 886, 888 (1984). This Court may “adjust the fee upward or downward”—the crucial factor in determining this adjustment is the extent of the plaintiff’s success. Hensley, 461 U.S. at 434.

This Court has discretion to award fees for time “reasonably expended” in this litigation. Hensley, 461 U.S. at 435. With regard to work performed since Plaintiffs filed their Third Fee Motion, Plaintiffs seek compensation for 1,316.50 hours in time totaling $618,201.00. This figure is reasonable in light of the time and experience necessary to litigate the complex issues raised during the remedial phase, analyze and respond to the large number of remedial proposals put forward by Intervenor-Defendants and non-parties, and then successfully obtain a complete victory on Intervenor-Defendants’ second appeal.

Plaintiffs' request for attorneys' fees also reflects counsels' exercise of appropriate billing judgment.

Provided as Appendix A to this motion is a consolidated spreadsheet that describes the specific tasks performed by every timekeeper on a daily basis and the number of hours spent on those tasks. Plaintiffs compiled this spreadsheet from contemporaneously created time records.<sup>3</sup> See Declaration of Kevin J. Hamilton ("Hamilton Decl.") ¶ 7. The attached Hamilton Declaration supports Plaintiffs' request. The declaration certifies that the hours expended were actually expended as described in the attached billing records, which are organized chronologically and list attorney name, date, and hours expended on the particular activity or project. Id. All time is broken down by individual task. Id. Mr. Hamilton's declaration attests that all attorneys participating in the case on remand maintained detailed, contemporaneous, and accurate records of time devoted to this matter throughout the entire course of representation. Id. The declaration further attests that all billing attorneys efficiently discharged their duties in litigating this case. Id. ¶ 10. To further bolster the reasonableness of Plaintiffs' request, counsel for Plaintiffs exercised reasonable billing judgment and excluded from their calculations any hours that were arguably "excessive, redundant, or otherwise unnecessary." Hensley, 461 U.S. at 434. Plaintiffs have already written off 129.70 hours and $19,753.50 from their bills. Hamilton Decl. ¶ 11. While Plaintiffs believe that all of this time was reasonably spent, Plaintiffs have elected to forgo recovery for, among other things, time spent by many timekeepers who assisted core members of Plaintiffs' litigation team.

"Where a plaintiff has obtained excellent results, his attorney should recover a fully compensatory fee." Hensley, 461 U.S. at 434. Counsel for the Plaintiffs in this case diligently defended their clients' interests and ultimately prevailed at trial and on remand. Plaintiffs should therefore be granted an award for all hours submitted to the Court.

<sup>3</sup> Plaintiffs can provide underlying billing invoices to the Court upon request for inspection, but believe the provided spreadsheet renders Plaintiffs' billing data much easier to assess and review. This is particularly true because, as explained herein, Plaintiffs are seeking recovery of fees at local rates rather than the rates actually charged, and have written off time that is reflected on the underlying invoices.

Finally, Plaintiffs' attorneys' hourly rates are reasonable. Plaintiffs maintain that it was reasonable for them to secure representation from attorneys outside of Richmond with particularized expertise in voting rights litigation. That said, as stated in Plaintiffs' reply in support of their Third Fee Motion (Dkt. Entry No. 184), Plaintiffs are willing to compromise to avoid dispute and agree to seek recovery at "Richmond" rates. With respect to work performed in 2015, Plaintiffs seek recovery at the rates set out in Defendants' response to their Third Fee Motion. See Dkt. Entry No. 183 at 11.<sup>4</sup> With respect to work performed in 2016, Plaintiffs seek recovery at the rates previously identified by Defendants, with upward adjustments to reflect (where applicable) actual increases in Plaintiffs' counsels' 2016 rates. Hamilton Decl. ¶ 8.

2. The Court Should Award Plaintiffs' Reasonable Litigation Expenses

Sections 1988(b) and 10310(e) allow a prevailing party to cover other reasonable litigation expenses. 52 U.S.C. § 10310(e) (providing that a "prevailing party" may recover "other reasonable litigation expenses as part of the costs"); Daly v. Hill, 790 F.2d 1071, 1083 (4th Cir. 1986) (noting that "reasonable attorneys' fees under § 1988 must include reasonable expenses because attorneys' fees and expenses are inseparably intertwined as equally vital components of the costs of litigation") (internal quotation marks, alterations, and citation omitted).

Recoverable expenses including any that are usually charged to fee-paying clients. See Missouri v. Jenkins by Agyei, 491 U.S. 274, 285 (1989) (noting that the "fee must take into account the work not only of attorneys, but also of secretaries, messengers, librarians, janitors and others whose labor constitutes the work product for which an attorney bills her client; and it also must take account of other expenses and profit”); see also Dowdell v. City of Apopka, 698 F.2d 1181, 1192 (11th Cir. 1983) (with the exception of “routine office overhead normally absorbed by the practicing attorney, all reasonable expenses incurred in case preparation [or] during the course of litigation . . . may be taxed as costs under section 1988”).

Such expenses may include such things as photocopying charges, fees of process servers, travel and related meal expenses, telephone, postage, computer research, and data hosting and processing fees. Jenkins, 491 U.S. at 289; Taylor v. Republic Servs., Inc., No. 2014 WL 325169 at *13 (E.D. Va. Jan. 29, 2014) (allowing compensation for “miscellaneous services, including costs associated with copies, facsimile, postage, Federal Express, messenger service, local travel and parking, telephone usage and legal research”); Evans v. Books-A-Million, 762 F.3d 1288, 1299 (11th Cir. 2014) (collecting cases); Doe ex rel. Doe v. Keala, 361 F. Supp. 2d 1171, 1189 (D. Haw. 2005) (“Out-of-pocket expenses for long distance telephone calls, messenger service, postage, facsimile, computerized legal research, and travel are ordinarily allowed under Section 1988.”); D.G. ex rel. Strickland v. Yarbrough, 2013 WL 1343151, at *8-9 (N.D. Okla. Mar. 31, 2013) (allowing recovery of reasonable expenses incurred in using vendors for electronic document hosting and management to the extent expenses were adequately documented); see also Wash. Dep’t of Wildlife v. Stubblefield, 739 F. Supp. 1428, 1433 (W.D. Wash. 1989) (allowing for recovery of expenses of computerized legal research under 28 U.S.C. § 2412(d)(1)(A)); Sussman v. Patterson, 108 F.3d 1206, 1213 (10th Cir. 1997) (allowing recovery of the costs of “items such as photocopying, mileage, meals, and postage”).

Here, Plaintiffs seek recovery of expenses in the total amount of $19,316.75. Attached as Appendix B to this motion is a spreadsheet that provides a detailed and itemized account of all expenses requested by Plaintiffs. See also Hamilton Decl. ¶¶ 13-14.<sup>5</sup> All the expenses were necessarily and reasonably incurred in the course of providing representation to the Plaintiffs.

E. Defendants and Intervenor-Defendants Are Jointly Liable for Attorneys' Fees and Reasonable Litigation Expenses for Work Performed on Remand, During the Remedial Phase, and on Intervenor-Defendants' Second Appeal

Plaintiffs' interest is in recovering the fees and expenses to which they are entitled as the prevailing parties. The Court has discretion to determine the appropriate allocation of fees and Plaintiffs leave that allocation to the Court's judgment or the private agreement of Defendants and Intervenor-Defendants. See Jones v. Southpeak Interactive Corp. of Delaware, 777 F.3d 658, 677 (4th Cir. 2015).

Plaintiffs have previously explained why, given the procedural history of this case, it is appropriate to hold Intervenor-Defendants accountable for Plaintiffs' fees and reasonable litigation expenses. See Dkt. Entry No. 176 at 7-9; see also Dkt. Entry No. 184 at 5-8. The Court elected to defer its consideration of the issue pending Intervenor-Defendants' second appeal, denying Plaintiffs' Third Motion without prejudice. See Dkt. Entry No. 198. To aid the Court in its resolution of the issue now, Plaintiffs summarize their prior briefing.

Intervenor-Defendants entered this lawsuit shortly after it was filed in 2013. See Dkt. Entry Nos. 1, 16. Over the next three years, Intervenor-Defendants took the lead in actively litigating this case and defending the unconstitutional CD 3. Indeed, Intervenor-Defendants, and not Defendants, are responsible for the ongoing litigation following this Court's October 7, 2014 Opinion and Order. Only Intervenor-Defendants appealed to the Supreme Court, Dkt. Entry No. 123, and only the Intervenor-Defendants contended that Alabama altered this Court's original analysis, Dkt. Entry No. 151. Among the parties, only Intervenor-Defendants objected to the Special Master's proposed remedial plans. And after the Court reaffirmed its original decision, Intervenor-Defendants appealed again. Defendants did not. In short, Intervenor-Defendants have been solely responsible for the dramatic extension of this lawsuit from October 2014 to July 2016. Without their involvement, this case would have been finally resolved in either late 2014 or early 2015 at the latest. Plaintiffs' fees would have been far less had they not had to defend the Court's orders against Intervenor-Defendants' attacks. Strikingly, Intervenor-Defendants imposed these dramatic burdens on the Court, Plaintiffs, and Defendants even though they did not have standing. See Dkt. Entry. No. 315-1.

In a run-of-the-mill case, an "innocent" intervenor who enters a lawsuit to protect a discrete interest is not liable for attorneys' fees unless the intervenors' actions are frivolous or unreasonable. Indep. Fed'n of Flight Attendants v. Zipes, 491 U.S. 754, 758 n.2, 761-63 (1989). But where, as here, an intervenor becomes the functional equivalent of a defendant, it assumes the risk of a fee award against it. See, e.g., Charles v. Daley, 846 F.2d 1057, 1064 (7th Cir. 1988) (affirming fee award against private intervenors: "We cannot and refuse to ignore the fact that the [private] intervenors' unilateral decision, one week after the plaintiffs filed suit, to join with the state defendants in adamantly defending the constitutionality of the Abortion Act rendered them full-fledged parties to the lawsuit and entitled them to participate independently in all phases of the litigation.").

For example, under similar circumstances, the Third Circuit held that an Intervenor-Defendant may be liable for attorneys' fees. See Planned Parenthood of Cent. New Jersey v. Attorney Gen. of State of New Jersey, 297 F.3d 253, 273 (3d Cir. 2002). In Planned Parenthood, the New Jersey Legislature passed an Act over the governor's veto. Id. at 258. When the named defendants declined to defend the act in a subsequent lawsuit, the Legislature intervened to defend the constitutionality of the act. Id. After succeeding on the merits, the plaintiffs sought fees against the Legislature. Id. at 259. In Planned Parenthood, the Third Circuit noted that "the legislature is the functional equivalent of a defendant in the case—without it, there would be no case." Id. at 264-65. Accordingly, the court held that "when a legislature steps out of its traditional role of promulgating statutes and intervenes to defend the constitutionality of an act which the executive branch is unwilling to defend, it becomes the functional equivalent of a defendant and may be liable for attorneys' fees." Id. at 272-73; see also Mallory v. Harkness, 923 F. Supp. 1546 (S.D. Fla. 1996), aff'd, 109 F.3d 771 (11th Cir. 1997) (imposing fees on attorney general who "defended the unconstitutional statute voluntarily" and "played a pivotal role in the litigation.").

In sum, Intervenor-Defendants—like Defendants—are liable for Plaintiffs' fees. Intervenor-Defendants' decision to mount a Stalingrad defense of an unconstitutional redistricting plan has a consequence—they have made themselves liable for Plaintiffs' fees.

III. CONCLUSION

For the reasons set forth above, Plaintiffs respectfully request that this Court (1) reinstate the previous award of attorneys' fees and reasonable litigation expenses against Defendants; (2) approve additional attorneys' fees as set out in Plaintiffs' Third Fee Motion in the amount of $73,540.50; (3) approve additional attorneys' fees and reasonable expenses incurred during the remedial phase and on Intervenor-Defendants' second appeal in the amount of $618,201.00 and $19,316.75, respectively; and (4) grant attorneys' fees against Intervenor-Defendants as well as Defendants.
